1996 Outlook

"Challenge" seems to be the word that crops up most often when talking about the upcoming Baylor volleyball season.

Several challenges present themselves - a new coaching staff, a new conference, rebounding from a dismal 7-28 season last year and the loss of both starting middle blockers.

First year head coach Brian Hosfeld knows what it takes to win. He comes to Baylor from Long Beach State, a program that has won two national championships, where he served for two years as an assistant coach. In addition, he co-founded the southern California based Magnum Volleyball Club in 1987, an organization that always has teams vying for national titles. He brings with him two southern Californians as assistant coaches. Serving as first assistant is Angela Lightfoot, a collegiate standout at both Cal State Fullerton and Arkansas State. In addition, she coached in the Magnum program for six years. Also joining the program is Craig Pazanti who brings experience from the professional, intercollegiate, club and high school ranks. The trio's familiarity with the nation's club programs will benefit them immensely in the recruiting wars.

Before the Big 12 Conference even started it has become one of the strongest volleyball conferences in the nation. Last season Nebraska and Texas played for the national championship with Nebraska emerging as the victor. In the final USA Today/AVCA Coaches Top 25 poll, four Big 12 teams were listed (#1-Nebraska, #2-Texas, #15-Texas A&M and #25-Texas Tech) and two more schools, Colorado and Iowa State, received votes. This season should be just as competitive with the other five Big 12 schools hoping to crack the top 25 also.

Coach Hosfeld and his assistants face the task of molding and rebuilding a team that finished the season with a 7-28 mark, was winless in the Southwest Conference (0-10) and lost two starting middle blockers, into a team with a winning attitude and record. An element critical to the success of this year's team is improving the team hitting percentage which was .149 last season. That, coupled with a tough1996 schedule, will be a huge task for the coaches. Nevertheless, it is a challenge the coaches are eager to start dealing with.

Despite losing two starting middle blockers to graduation, the outlook in the middle isn't as bleak as it sounds. Returning to anchor the middle will be Heather Saari, a 6-1 senior who redshirted last season. In 1994 she was #2 on the team and #3 in the Southwest Conference in hitting percentage with a mark of .323. In addition, she tallied 18 block solos and 115 block assists.

Besides Saari's return, four other starters are back to provide leadership and experience. Sharon Pratt, a 5-9 senior, and Sarah Sivertson, a 5-9 sophomore, shared setting duties last season in the 6-2 offense. Pratt tallied 867 assists and 235 kills while Sivertson accumulated 536 assists and 243 kills. Also, Pratt led the team in digs with 340 while Sivertson registered 232. Sivertson was the squad's top server with 34 aces. Returning for her junior year is a 6-2 outside hitter, Nicole DeNault. An expert at hitting the ball with extreme force, DeNault led the team in kills last year with 364. The final returning starter is Suzanne Scott, a 5-10 outside hitter. She was second on the team in digs and service aces with 236 and 28 respectively.

Rounding out the roster of returning players are outside hitters Holly Falkenhagen, Crystal Schweihs, Leslie Lockett and Jenny Haag and middle blocker Leslie Counseller. Schweihs and Falkenhagen could see action in the middle as well as the outside. All players saw plenty of action last season, therefore, they have the experience necessary to step in as a starter.

Four newcomers, one middle blocker and two setter/hitters and one hitter, come to Baylor with visions of stepping directly into a starting role. Lena Kaer, a transfer from Pacific University in Oregon, sat out last season due to her transfer. The 5-8 Mililani, Hawaii native is a setter/hitter. Freshman Kia Young, a Houston native (Mayde Creek HS), at 6-0, is the lone recruit at middle blocker. Samantha Scott, also a freshman from Houston (Nimitz HS), has visions of two Scotts on the court. Her older sister, Suzanne, begins her junior season with the volleyball team and a starter last season. Samantha is a 5-10 setter/hitter. Also joining the program is Elisha Polk, a 5-8 hitter out of Sacramento, Calif. (El Camino HS).

All in all, it will be a very interesting season...one of major adjustments and challenges, on the part of the players and coaches. Although daunting, the challenges will be eagerly met by everyone.

BRIAN HOSFELD - HEAD COACH

Brian Hosfeld
Head Coach

Brian Hosfeld, who has served for the past two seasons as an assistant at Long Beach State, was named Baylor's new head volleyball coach on April 26.

"Brian understands what it takes to be a big-time winner because of his experience as an assistant coach at two-time national champion Long Beach State," said Jeanne Nowlin, Baylor Assistant Athletic Director for Women's Sports.

"He has a large frame of reference from which to base his development and recruitment of players, and he is an excellent teacher of the game, not to even mention his fundraising experience."

Hosfeld joined the Long Beach State staff in 1993 as a graduate assistant after eight years of coaching on the high school and club levels. He was named assistant coach in 1994. Long Beach State won the national championship in 1993.

A 1991 graduate of Long Beach State, Hosfeld began his coaching career in 1987 as the head girl's volleyball coach at La Serna High School in Whittier, California. He coached for four years at La Serna High and guided the team to three league championships and the California Interscholastic Federation (CIF) quarterfinals.

Hosfeld served as the head boy's volleyball coach at Santa Fe High School in Santa Fe Springs, California from 1991-93. Santa Fe High School won one league championship during his tenure.

Hosfeld's final stop in the high school ranks before moving to Long Beach State was at Lakewood High School in Lakewood, California from 1993-94. He guided the boy's team to a league title and an undefeated regular season that ended in the state semifinal.

Hosfeld founded the highly-respected Magnum Volleyball Club in 1986 and served as the club's head coach until 1995. The Magnum Volleyball Club is one of the most successful junior development programs in the United States. He also founded the Southern California Volleyball Institute in 1993.

"Brian is the absolute best choice for Baylor University as it enters the Big 12 Conference," said Jeanne Nowlin, Asst. AD for Women's Sports.

A native of Long Beach, the 30-year old Hosfeld played three sports at Wilson High School and attended Long Beach City College for two years before enrolling at Long Beach State. Hosfeld played for the 1985 Long Beach City College team that won the California State JC Championship.

Coach Hosfeld is single and lives in Waco. He enjoys playing golf and grass volleyball and sailing in his spare time.

Angela Lightfoot Asst. Coach

Angela Lightfoot begins her first year at Baylor, coming in as Coach Hosfeld's top assistant. The 26-year-old Long Beach, Calif. native has worked closely with Coach Hosfeld for six years, serving as an assistant in the southern California based Magnum Volleyball Club.

She comes to the program not only with coaching experience but four years of playing collegiate volleyball to her credit also. ## 1995 Review

The Baylor volleyball team got out to a slow start on the 1995 season, winning just one of their first 13 matches, and couldn't recover, ending the year with a 7-28 record, including 0-10 in Southwest Conference play.

The Lady Bears faced a tough schedule, however, as 17 of their matches came against teams that played in the post season, including eventual national champion Nebraska and runner-up Texas. The Lady Bears notched a big win when they defeated future Big 12 foe Kansas, three games to one, at a tournament in Lincoln, Neb.

Six tournaments graced the Lady Bears' schedule. They finished fifth in the Goff/Michigan State Classic, fourth in their own Dr Pepper/American Airlines Tournament, fourth in the Red Lion Classic hosted by Loyola Marymount (CA), third in the University of Nebraska's Arby's Classic and third in the Southwest Missouri State Autumn Classic. In addition, they were eliminated from the Southwest Conference Tournament in the first round with a loss to Texas Tech.

Baylor's seven victories came against Stephen F. Austin, Kansas, Southwest Texas State, the University of North Texas, Sam Houston State, Tulsa and Louisiana Tech.

D'Ann Arthur, a senior middle blocker, earned second team all-Southwest Conference honors.

BIG 12 CONFERENCE™

The Big 12 Conference became a reality on February 25, 1994 when Southwest Conference members Baylor, Texas, Texas A&M and Texas Tech merged with Big Eight Conference institutions Colorado, Iowa State, Kansas, Kansas State, Missouri, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Oklahoma State to pursue common academic and athletic endeavors.

Individually, member schools have long been respected for successes both in the classroom and on the field of competition. In total, league institutions have received numerous accolades for the quality of academic resources, programs and services offered to students. Athletically, the Big 12 Conference has accounted for more than 130 NCAA team championships and 15 wire service football titles, while its student-athletes have claimed more than 750 NCAA crowns entering the 1996-97 academic year. The formation of a new Conference represents an undertaking by school chief executive officers to combine resources to achieve even higher levels of performance.

Institution chancellors and presidents will serve as the chief policy-makers of the Conference, operating as the Council of Chief Executive Officers. Administration of the league will occur through the Faculty Athletics Representatives, Athletics Directors and Senior Woman Administrators.

Steven J. Hatchell was appointed the league's commissioner March 26, 1995, and assumed his duties on July 1, 1995. Hatchell has extensive ties to the league as he has served as commissioner of the Southwest Conference for two years. His association with he current membership of the Big Eight began in the early 1970s as he worked in the athletic department at Colorado, his alma mater. He later went on to serve as Service Bureau Director/Associate/Interim Commissioner of the Big Eight from 1977 to 1983. working under Commissioners Chuck Neinas and Carl James. His tenure at the Southwest Conference was preceded by a stint as Metro Conference COmmissioner (1083-87) and Executive Director of the Orange Bowl.

Certainly few leagues will be able to parallel the quality of the Big 12 when competition begins this fall. Recent history reveals a staggering level of success, both on a team and individual basis.

ABOUT BAYLOR

THE UNIVERSITY

Baylor University was chartered by the Republic of Texas in 1845 and is the oldest university in continuous existence in the state. As the world's largest Baptist institution of higher education and one of the nation's major academic, church-related institutions, Baylor strives to provide liberal arts and professional education in a Christian environment. Baylor emphasizes high academic and personal standards; its paramount, all-inclusive aim is to prepare well-qualified students to "make a living and make a life" in a democratic society. Students come to the university from all 50 states, and Baylor welcomes a growing number of international students. More than 200 social, service, professional, religious and honorary student organizations — from national fraternities and sororities to the nation's first collegiate chapter of Habitat for Humanity and one of the country's largest Baptist Student Unions — provide opportunities for recreation, development of social skills, spiritual and intellectual stimulation and pursuit of individual interests. Cultural activities at the university include numerous presentations by prominent lecturers and performances by musicians and entertainers. In addition to offering varsity sports as a member of NCAA Division I and the Southwest Athletic Conference, Baylor provides an extensive, balanced program of intramurals. Facilities on campus offer opportunities for such recreational activities as bowling, racquetball, swimming, tennis, sailing, canoeing and boating.

LOCATION

Located on the banks of the Brazos River in Central Texas, Waco is a thriving city of 110,000 people. The city is very near the population and geographic center of the state; within 100 miles of Dallas-Fort Worth and Austin and within easy driving distance of Houston, San Antonio and the Gulf Coast.

MAJORS AND DEGREES

Baylor's undergraduate programs are available in the College of Arts and Sciences and four separate schools: Education, Music, Nursing and the Hankamer School of Business . The curriculum includes 142 baccalaureate programs, 72 master's programs, and 13 doctoral programs. Graduate work is offered in the College of Arts and Sciences, the Schools of Education, Law, Music and the Hankamer School of Business. The Education Specialist degree is offered by the School of Education, and the Juris Doctor degree is offered by the School of Law. Graduate degrees also are attainable at the College of Dentistry in Dallas and the U.S. Army Academy of Health Sciences in San Antonio.

ACADEMIC PROGRAMS

Baylor, a Phi Beta Kappa university and one of the top 50 universities in numbers of National Merit Scholars, operates on a two-semester academic year plus two six-week summer sessions. In the first two years, all students select courses that will provide a broadly-based liberal arts education. All students, except those in the School of Music, start in the College of Arts and Sciences. By the third year, students who wish to enter one of the other disciplines may seek admission to the desired school.

Coursework is enhanced by opportunities to study beyond the classroom, including the university's international programs in more than 15 countries and hands-on experiences such as archaeological digs from Waco to Israel. One-year exchange programs are available with universities in England, Hong Kong and Japan.

Congressional Medal of Honor

Baylor University is believed to be the only school in America to have two former athletes go on to win the Congressional Medal of Honor. Both men, Jack Lummus and John (Killer) Kane, won the nation's highest military honor for heroics in World War II.

Lummus played football, basketball and baseball for the Bears from 1938 through 1941. He was an All-Southwest Conference centerfielder, before signing with the New York Giants of the National Football League.

After one year of pro football, Lummus joined the Marines and was a platoon leader in the initial days of fighting on Iwo Jima. While leading a charge on enemy positions, Lummus stepped on a land mine and lost both legs. Despite the heavy bleeding that resulted, he led his platoon to knock out several pockets of Japanese fire, a vital part of the U.S. victory. Lummus died of his wounds shortly after the battle.

Kane played football and basketball at Baylor and was a member of the ill-fated 1927 basketball team that lost ten of its members in a bus-train wreck. Kane was one of the 12 survivors.

Kane joined the Army Air Corps in 1932 and soon became a bomber commander of legendary proportions. It was said he was the best pilot and toughest commander in the Air Corps. It was often debated who feared him more—the Germans or his own men.

"Sic'Em Bears" and "Bear Claw"

On August 1, 1943, Kane led what at the time was the deadliest air battle in history—a low-level, long-range bombing raid on Hitler's oil-refining complex in Ploesti, Rumania. The site produced a major part of the Axis' fuel and was one of the most heavily guarded locations in history.

In 1960, Baylor's yell leaders introduced the "Bear Claw" hand signal and "Sic'Em Bears" yell. The initial student and faculty reaction to the yell and coinciding hand signal, made by slightly curving all five fingers inward to form a bear claw, was mixed.

The issue was a topic of hot debate, and their use was sporadic throughout the '60s until Grant Teaff arrived in 1972. Teaff initiated a new era of Baylor football and the "Bear Claw" and "Sic'Em Bears" yell came to symbolize pride in Baylor athletics.

In addition to being used during the yell, the "Bear Claw" is held up during the playing of Baylor's school song, "That Good Old Baylor Line." Football players traditionally hold up their helmets during the playing of the school song.

Homecoming Parade

One of the highlights of the Baylor Homecoming each year is the Homecoming Parade, believed to be the largest and oldest in the nation. The first parade was in 1909.

About 35,000 people annually line the streets to view the parade, with another 115,000 watching on local television. Approximately 115-120 parade entries, including floats, cars carrying distinguished guests, and marching bands, participate in the parade which travels about two miles to the campus.

Mascot Story

Back in the 1920s, Baylor received its first live mascot from troops of the 107th Engineers, a unit of the 32nd Infantry Division, which was stationed in Waco.

The bear, named Ted, made his first appearance at a Baylor-Texas A&M football game, and when the unit got its orders to move on, the bear was left in the hands of the Baylor Athletic Department. Since then, the use of the bear at Baylor football and basketball games has become as much a fixture as the players, cheerleaders and bands.

Probably the best-known mascot was Joe College, who came to Baylor through the work of Bill Boyd, then a Baylor student. Boyd bought the bear from a zoo that went broke at the Cotton Palace in Waco. He then approached Baylor's president, Pat Neff, and offered to take care of the bear in exchange for free tuition. Neff accepted the deal and the tradition of live bears as mascots has continued since.

The current bear mascots appearing at games, come from Bear Country USA, a drive-through wildlife park in South Dakota. They are rotated about every two years due to handling difficulties after the age of two and one-half.

In addition to the cubs which go to the games, a larger, older bear is kept at the Hudson Bear Plaza on campus. The honor of training and caring for the bears goes to the Baylor Chamber of Commerce, a campus service organization.

Bear Nickname

Baylor was founded in 1845, but it was not until 1914 that, then president, Samuel Palmer Brooks decided the time had come for the school to officially choose a nickname for its intercollegiate athletic teams.

In December 1914, a vote of the student body was held and "Bears" won out in a very close vote over "Buffaloes". Other nicknames nominated were "Antelopes", "Frogs", and "Ferrets".

"That Good Old Baylor Line"

The alma mater of Baylor has been the rallying call to the school's thousand of students, ex-students and friends since shortly after the turn of the 20th century. Its present form however, is altogether different from the original one. In fact, its title is the only thing that has remained intact throughout the years. The now famous title was conceived in 1907 when a group of Baylor men, led by William B. Todd, borrowed a tune from a Broadway musical hit of 1902, a sprightly waltz number called "In the Good Old Summertime." The text of that first pep-generating ditty embodies a dire threat to all gridiron foes, notably those of a sister institution of that time also located in Waco—the forerunner of Texas Christian University, then called Add-Ran College. Rivalry between the two student bodies was intense, hence, the Baylor men's threat to send the opponents home "done up in turpentine" after an encounter with the formidable Baylor "line". The words used in that first version have long been abandoned. New words were written in 1931 by Enid Eastland Markham, a 1923 Baylor graduate.

THIS IS WACO

Waco at a Glance

The illusion of impending disaster thrills crowds at the annual Texas Air Expo. For those of a gentler nature, bluebonnets, Indian paintbrushes and hummingbirds at Miss Nellie's Pretty Place are thrill enough. On the banks of the Brazos River, the swirl of life is easy, but the pulse is strong. There is plenty to do and see; frenzy, however, has no place in the Waco itinerary. A mix between Old West and Old South, cattle barons and cotton kings, cowboys and dirt farmers, Waco offers a unique brand of refreshment—something you may not have experienced before.

Texas Safari Ranch

This wildlife park is the largest drive-through preserve in the Southwest. There are more than 70 species and 4,000 animals, as well as, a western town, an Indian cave and a lake for swimming. It is located in nearby Clifton.

FERRELL CENTER

The Ferrell Center, built in 1988 at a cost of $12.5 million, is named in memory of Charles Robert Ferrell who died in 1967 during his sophomore year at Baylor. The basketball playing court is named in honor of Paul J. Meyer Sr. of Waco. The 150,000-square-foot facility was built by the Waco Construction Company.

Located on a 14-acre tract, the Ferrell Center seats 10,084 for basketball and volleyball games and nearly 12,000 for other activities such as conventions, concerts, graduation exercises and convocations.

Banquet accommodations can be arranged for 1,000 people on the main floor. Also, two plush VIP rooms are located next to the business offices and can be used for smaller meetings.

Armchair seating is arranged in 42 tiered levels, including nine rows of 800 retractable seats on each side of the playing court. A four-sided scoreboard, built by Daktronics of South Dakota, is mounted above the center of the court.

Also within the Ferrell Center are offices for the administrative staff of the complex. The Athletic Department has offices for the men's and women's basketball programs.

The lower level of the building houses some of the finest locker rooms in the country. Customized wooden cabinet lockers have been built for both the men's and women's locker rooms. Also, on the lower level are visiting team locker rooms, coaches' and officials' dressing rooms, a warming kitchen, press room, interview room and general storage.

A major portion of the construction cost was provided by the estates of the late Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Ferrell of Houston, in memory of their son, Charles Robert Ferrell. Monroe Ferrell, a 1938 graduate of Baylor, operated a concrete pipe business in Houston until his death in December 1981, seven years after the death of his wife.

Other significant contributions came from Paul J. Meyer Sr., Emil H. Meyerhoff and the late J.E. and L.E. Mabee Foundation of Tulsa, Oklahoma. Meyer is founder and chairman of the board of Success Motivation International, Inc. and of the Eureka Corporation. The Meyerhoff estate, through the auspices of executor Bill Patterson of McAllen, provided the university with a large gift.

Groundbreaking for the Ferrell Center was held July 1, 1987, and a women's basketball game between Baylor and Southwest Texas State on November 25, 1988, was the first sporting event held in the arena. The height of the facility is 111 feet and the dome covers three acres and weighs 175 tons. Lighting capacity on the floor is 150 candles.

Through the first few years of operation, the Ferrell Center has hosted nationally-known entertainers Reba McEntire, Amy Grant, Dan Seals, George Strait, the Harlem Globetrotters and the Muppet Babies. The Dallas Mavericks also play an exhibition NBA game here once a year. Former President Ronald Reagan spoke to a Republican political rally in the first event held under the golden dome in 1988.

TRAINING/STRENGTH & CONDITIONING

Training

The sports medicine facilities, one each in the Ferrell Center and at Floyd Casey Stadium, are equipped with the best of equipment and personnel.

The training room has enough treatment tables to tape 18-20 people at one time. The trainers utilize a physician's examination room and the latest in therapeutic treatment. This treatment includes a testing and rehabilitation system, which tests body parts to prevent injury and rehabilitates them after injury. A seven-person whirlpool is also available for treatment.

The training staff consists of four full-time trainers, as well as, over 30 student trainers and managers.

Strength and Conditioning

Baylor's weight training and conditioning facilities, one each in the Ferrell Center and at Floyd Casey Stadium, are equipped with the latest equipment for muscle development and injury recovery needs.

Each sport is assigned a strength and conditioning coach who works with the team on a year-round basis.

The strength and conditioning department plays an extremely important role in the success of Baylor's athletic teams.

The strength and conditioning staff consists of two full-time coaches, as well as, several student coaches. Robb Rogers, the director of the strength and conditioning program, was named 1996 National Professional of the Year by the National Strength and Conditioning Association.

ACADEMIC ADVISEMENT

The fact that Baylor University graduates its athletes at one of the highest rates in the nation is no accident.

All Baylor athletes are required to meet NCAA regulations concerning their academic standing. Dr. Betsy Reed, Assistant Director for Athletic Academic Services, and her staff personally advise each student-athlete. Reed makes sure students take courses they need to complete their degree plans.

In order to provide athletes additional support, the office provides academic support counselors and supervised study halls. These study halls are offered to all students who are advised in the office.

Tutors working in the study hall are primarily graduate students and are available whenever athletes need additional help.

Since comparable records have been kept in recent years, Baylor athletes have achieved one of the highest graduation rates. The Baylor administration is working toward a goal of graduating every athlete that competes at Baylor.

Through the Academic Learning Center, student-athletes are given every opportunity to earn a degree from Baylor.

TOM STANTON - ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

Tom Stanton

Director of Athletics

Heading the Baylor Athletic Department into the Big 12 Conference is Director of Athletics Tom Stanton. Stanton is a former Bear basketball standout and business leader whose enthusiasm, vision and leadership skills are preparing Baylor to hold a strong position in America's premier athletic conference.

Baylor President Dr. Robert B. Sloan Jr., named Stanton Athletic Director on February 23, 1996.

The 46-year-old Stanton came to Baylor in July of 1995 as the university's director of athletic marketing and promotions following a 22-year career with Word Inc., an international Christian communications company.

Stanton held several positions at Word, among the, director of telemarketing, vice president for marketing, vice president for operations, senior vice president for operations, executive vice president for operations, direct marketing and international export.

Word Inc. was acquired by Thomas Nelson Inc. in 1992, and in 1993 Stanton was named president of Nelson/Word Direct and Texas Operations. Stanton was responsible for three major divisions of the company, and under his leadership, sales increased 35 percent.

Stanton holds bachelor's and master's degrees in business from Baylor. He lettered three years in basketball and two in baseball. He finished his basketball career at Baylor in 1972 with 954 points. He won the team's Hustle Award three consecutive seasons, and as a junior was second on the team in scoring behind All-American William Chatmon.

Upon completing his playing career, Stanton served as a graduate assistant coach on the Baylor basketball staff.

"Tom Stanton fits the profile of the new generation of athletic directors," said Dr. Sloan. "His extensive background in business, including marketing, licensing agreements and contract negotiations, along with his abilities related to personal and corporate sponsorships, make him a great fit for Baylor University as we move into the Big 12 and the 21st century.

"Also, Tom's knowledge of Baylor, his involvement in Baylor athletics, and his commitment to women's and men's athletics are added benefits."

Said former Baylor Athletic Director Bill Menefee, Stanton's basketball coach at Baylor, "Tom is a natural leader. He always played the game hard, whether in practice of a game. And he had a real knack for making everybody around him better.

"When we picked sides for a scrimmage, the team Tom was on always won. We could change just one player, switching Tom to the other team, and the other team would win."

Since coming to Baylor, Stanton has been instrumental in helping the university establish all-time football attendance records with an average of 40, 542 per game and 11,200 season tickets sold in 1995. Also, Baylor that sane year, set records for the largest home opener crowd ever (42,315 for Mississippi State), the largest Texas Tech home series crowd ever (40,882) and the largest crowd in school history (51,218 for Texas A&M).

While football attendance rose, booster support increased as well. Last year the Bear Foundation reached an all-time high in terms of both memberships and donations.

In addition to his work at Baylor, Stanton has been heavily involved in the Big 12 Task Force, a group of several hundred community and civic leaders who are ensuring a smooth and successful transition for Baylor and Waco into the Big 12 Conference.

Stanton and his wife, Kathleen, also a Baylor graduate, have two sons, Clinton and Ryan.
